JOHNNY MURPHY.

The Famous Driver Died at Hiram
Howes's T-Day.

JOHN MURPHY.

He Had Been Down With Consumption for a Long Time.

The Squared Driver in the Trotting
Circuit Passes Away.

John Murphy, the famous driver, owner and driver of trotting horses, is dead. He died at the residence of Hiram Howes, on the Boulevard, between Brooklyn and Coney Island, this morning.

Johnny Murphy was regarded as the squared driver in the trotting circuit, and was, perhaps, more extensively known and trusted among racing men and horse owners.

He trained some of the most famous trotting horses of the century. He had charge of Maud S, from the time Robert Bonner purchased her, and owned many famous trotting horses himself. His stables are at Fleetwood Park.

Murphy was forty-five years old, and leaves a wife and children.

He was weak of frame and had been in feeble health for several years, consumption having laid its withering hands upon him.

Now standing his feeble condition Johnny Murphy was game and full of energy. Three years ago, despite the protests of anxious friends, he rode a relay race with Anderson, the California. The race was of twenty-five miles, with a remount at the end of each mile.

Murphy made a gallant race, but lost. The effect was bad, and the pucky fellow grew weaker after it.

Complication of his ailments followed and a pneumonia was undergone.

Two months ago Murphy was removed to the house of Hiram Howes in the full knowledge of the approach of death.

His death was peaceful. He will be missed and sincerely mourned.

EXPLOSION OF A BOILER.
ONE OF THE FRAGMENTS SMASHES AN ADJACENT STOOP.

A boiler in the stone quarry of Louis Canterbury at One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street and La Fontaine avenue exploded and set fire to a lot of hay.

One of the flying pieces struck the stoop of the house at 427 1/2 Third avenue, occupied by George Neider, damaging it about $15.

The boiler itself is a total wreck and the loss will be $300.

TRIED TO STAB A POLICEMAN.

Maggie Beckman Made a Thrust at Him
With a Long Hairpin.

In the Jefferson Market Police Court today Maggie Beckman was charged with acting disorderly in the streets. Justice Gorman committed the woman to the island for six months. While being taken to prison by Policeman Hehr the woman drew a long hairpin from her hair and made a lunge at the officer's heart. Investigation showed the pin to be 7 inches long.

The officer saw the blow coming and jumped aside. Beckman was once more brought before the Court and held in $1,000 bail for assault upon the officer.
